1. I feel that this type of area program can contribute to increasing analyst effectiveness if he is engaged primarily in such fields as economic, political, or sociological. However, if his task concerns technological or scientific problems, I think a training program designed to acquaint him better with basic processes, machines, etc. would be more beneficial.

2. No, because of the subject matter.

3. a. The subject matter was irrelevant to my normal work problems* although I found the July program of considerable interest. In August, on the other hand, I found the economics lectures too general and the political lectures too abstract.

b. No comment on July program. Presentation of August program was difficult to understand and required maximum concentration.

c. Number of weeks was adequate. Two hours for each session was too long.

d. No comment.

4. No comment.

This was submitted by intelligence officer concerned primarily with a rather technical field of manufacturing
